Two Charged In Shooting

MOMENTUM. . .
Johnny Miller, the incredible young golfer challenging Jack Nicklaus for dominance of the game, was interviewed on the "Tonight" show the other evening.

Winner of about $110,000 in three out of four tournaments in 1975, Miller was asked how he did it, how he kept scoring 61 to 68 par-breaking rounds.

"It's just keeping the momentum," he said nonchalantly.

And Miller's right. Momentum is the key when the old ideas slip, when new ones line up waiting to move into the maelstrom of events, that stream of life which we can share or watch from the bank, like so many viewers hooked on TV, taking what comes.

Momentum works.

For example: About 11:15 the other day I was in a roundtable discussion in Austin over a newspaper bill the industry is looking over.

After lunch, it was another session elsewhere about some industry funding operations.

And by 3, I was visiting with Wayne Danielson, dean of the School of Communications at the University of Texas. He and I share a fascination for computers, electronics and visual technology in communications.

Though a meeting or so more than usual in a three-hour span, it is not an untypical day of momentum.

Miller understands. He's starting his high-road records young enough he may be another Bobby Jones, the golfer who won it all by 28 and retired to designing golf courses and teaching the game.

It is momentum that makes a golf club sing. Or a mind whirl. And things click.

Just remember the name Miller in golf. He's got the stuff. And he calls it momentum.

WHAT IT'S ABOUT

It appears that Texas' obsession with size is subsiding, that quality orientation in education, trades, professions and the arts is getting the nod over vast fortunes, land spreads and pointless comparisons of this state's size to some other.

I've always said "money is a by-product of success." There's no denying the necessities, but there is no denying that the quality of life goes beyond bankrolling it.

I never fail to feel better when my serve sizzles, when the right word pops in place in these columns, when a moment allows beauty as well as work to be noticed, when an edition of this newspaper sparkles in color and black and white, someone special smiles approval.

I don't think that's too Yankeeified. I think that's what it's all about.

Zotz Files For Council Post

City Councilman Lawrence Zotz has filed for re-election to Place 4, according to City Secy. Buddy Fuller. His is the only filing so far.

Terms of Councilmen Bob Clark and Gene Lumpkin will also be up in April.

Sponsors Sought For Junior Broiler Show

Sponsorships are still open for the annual Milam County Junior Broiler Show, according to Jimmy Bledsoe, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce broiler committee.

Fee for a sponsor is $17 this year.

The broiler program will get underway on March 7 when sponsors will present participating growers with the 50 baby chicks they receive to raise in the program.

Contestants must be a member of the Milam County 4-H or of a FFA chapter in a school in the county. Growers will raise their chicks according to FFA and 4-H standards.

The annual show will be held in May. Chicks will be judged by a recognized judge on standard points for broiler shows.

Any business or individual wanting to sponsor a grower may contact Bledsoe or the Chamber officer.

Trustees OK Principals' Contracts

Following executive session, the CISD board Monday night approved new two-year contracts for three CISD principals and the head coach-athletic director.

Principals Jack Chubb of Yoe High School, Bob Martin of Ada Henderson School, and Bill Huffman of O. J. Thomas School, as well as coach Ed Cauley drew two-year renewals. Some were working on one or two-year balances, according to Supt. Buddy Dulin.

The Board in open meeting Monday evening earlier approved purchase of 150 YHS band uniforms on a low bid of $19,495.50 from Fruehof Uniforms, Wichita, Kan. Bid from Oswald Uniforms for uniforms was $23,046.

YHS director Jerry Bartley showed a film of the November, 1974 marching contest in which the YHS band won three firsts in Waco.

He showed a model uniform and variations of the fit and appearance for both marching and concert band appearances. Uniforms are to be delivered in about 90 days and include new hats, gloves, braids, and classic high-collar jackets.

CISD board also approved unanimously budgeting of salary for appointment of an assistant band director next fall. Bartley said he would begin interviews.

Supt. Dulin advised the board that Cameron Noon Lions Club was financing construction of a 60 by 100-foot all-purpose court opposite O. J. Thomas School, apparently to be at the site of a new park projected in the school neighborhood. It would be used for tennis, basketball, and volleyball, Dulin said.

Dulin also noted work underway in the CISD faculty on evaluation of teaching programs and school facilities, which may be finished at the end of the school year or early next fall. The faculty is commenting generally on the need for a new gym and auditorium in the CISD system.

He also said the boiler at Yoe High School is old, but not "dangerous" and urged no hurry in its replacement.

Cameron Woman Suffers Wound From Shotgun

Two Cameron men have been charged with assault with intent to murder in the shooting of a Cameron woman which led to the death of her unborn baby. The shooting occurred early Sunday in a Cameron nightclub.

Charged in Justice of the Peace Jess Brock's court are Marvin Keith, 26, and Charles Heights, 24, both of Cameron.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Linda Bowden, 22, of 402 S. Jefferson St., Cameron, was reportedly shot once in the chest at about 2:30 a.m. Sunday at Johnny Johnson's Place on North 3 Street. Weapon used was a 12-gauge shotgun.

According to witnesses at the scene, Keith and Heights apparently were involved in a fight with some soldiers, and Mrs. Bowden was in the way when the shotgun went off. Arresting officers were Police Chief Felipe Martinez, Edward Sexton and Johnny Sargent.

The woman was pregnant and her unborn child died, a hospital spokesman said. Mrs. Bowden was taken to Newton Hospital in Cameron and later transferred to Scott & White Hospital in Temple.

She underwent surgery at Scott & White and was placed in intensive care Monday, and her condition is listed as serious.

Negotiations Resumed In IGC Dispute

Both sides in the labor dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) Local 2078 and the Industrial Generating Company returned to the negotiation table Monday and talks were resumed.

The IGC labor team is headed by Richard Wiggins, IGC superintendent at the Rockdale plant.

Talks had been suspended for about two weeks, ever since the IBEW workers went on strike.

An Alcoa spokesman said the Rockdale aluminum plant was carrying on "business as usual" with no interruption of power needed for the plant. Supervisory personnel have been managing the IGC plant.

Rabid Skunk Shot, Vaccination Urged

Pet owners are warned to get their animals vaccinated for rabies following confirmation of two rabid skunks killed and two others which are being tested by the state health department.

A skunk killed west of Cameron outside the city limits and another killed on East 21st Street were both confirmed rabid. Other skunks were killed in the 1200 block of West Main and on the east side of town. They are being tested for possible rabies.

A resident of 21 street killed that skunk, which had attacked a dog but didn't bite it.

Pets may be taken to any veterinarian for rabies vaccination.

'Jaws' Author Meets Real Shark

By Bruce Russell

HOLLYWOOD

Reuter--For the past two years author Peter Benchley has dealt with literary great white sharks of his own imagining, with dummy great white sharks made for films, but he has just returned from Australia where he came nose to nose for the first time with the real thing.

Author of the best-selling novel "Jaws" about a great white shark which terrorizes a New England beach resort, Benchley went to Australia to film an encounter with a great white shark for ABC television.

The team of fishermen helping the ABC crew took less than a day to find him. Lumps of horsemeat were strewn on the water to keep the shark's attention, and Benchley, grandson of humorist Robert Benchley, was lowered into the water in a cage to get a close look at the monster.

"It came out of the twilight under-water gloom," he recalls of the eerie encounter off the south Australian town of Port Lincoln. "He looked about as long as a freight train. In fact he was about 14 feet long.

"He came on with his mouth a little bit open, a little bit closed in a half-yawn and smiling, looking directly at me with his black fathomless eyes.

"And when he got to about four or five feet from the cage, very easily and lazily his mouth opened wide, the teeth went into bite position and without increasing his speed or without doing anything, he slammed into the cage.

"I could hear the teeth scraping against the metal."

A character in Benchley's book who goes down in a cage is grabbed by the shark when it rams its snout through the bars, tossed high in the air and swallowed.

Luckily Benchley did not suffer the fate he assigned to that character. "The theory is that the shark will bite at the cage and find it unappetizing and move on," he says.

"But the consensus of experts is that a shark with superior intelligence who knows that if he could get through the bars he would get food, he would soon find a way of getting through those bars."

Benchley, 34, says he became keenly interested in sharks since fishing for them as a youth. The great white fascinated him most of all.

He says the largest white shark ever was 17 1/2 feet long taken with a harpoon off Montauk, Long Island.

"It's a beautiful animal in terms of natural perfection," Benchley says after his meeting with one.

"It moves with incredible grace and beauty. And you have the feeling there is no malice there, no seeking for vengeance, just a normal hunting for a food source.

"He's not trying to hurt you, he's trying to eat you."

Benchley also wrote the screenplay for the film of his book which Universal Pictures is to release in June.

He says three dummy great white sharks were made for the film and there were interspersed with 30,000 feet of real great whites shot by a second camera unit in Australian waters.

The three dummy sharks were made at a total cost of $800,000 with polyurethane hides and computer circuits inside to make their heads, fins, and tail move.

"They were 25 feet long," he recalls. "The studio brought them across country to the east coast location on trucks.

"They even put them on the Indiana Turnpike--huge creatures covered with canvas, except their tails were sticking out the back."

B'holts Trustees Fill Vacancy, Appoint Board

Buckholts trustees appointed a replacement for a resigning board member and named a board of equalization for 1975, at a regular meeting Monday evening.

Edwin Lehmann was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Calvin Rachui, who resigned because his wife became an employee of the school system. Lehmann will serve until the election on April 5.

Appointed to the equalization board are L. M. Wunsch, Guy Tittle, and Willie Glaser. Alternate is Mrs. Frances Fuchs.

Buckholts Supt. Leon Brady also reported that incumbent trustees Joe Biskup and A. W. Zajicek Jr. have both filed for re-election to the school board.

Police Report 1-Car Accident

Cameron police reported a one-car accident at 3 a.m. Sunday in the 800 block of S. Burleson. Larry Nichols of 1102 West 6, driver of the car, was not hurt.

The car reportedly hit a fence, a tree, and a house belonging to Frank Corona Sr.

Police issued a ticket for not having a driver's license.

Residents Protest Gate On Freezeout Road

A large group of county residents met with Milam County Commissioners Monday morning to protest the installation of a gate on a road near the Alcoa plant at Rockdale. County Judge O. B. Harden said the gate was placed to re-route Alcoa employees so they would not have to cross a picket line put up by striking Industrial Generating Co. union members.

An attendant at the gate was opening it and letting residents through, but the residents strongly object to the gate being there, and a petition was submitted from one group. The road is known as Freezeout Road.

Commissioners passed a motion declaring the road a public, county-maintained road.

Tuesday, a spokesman for Alcoa said: "We have been advised of the action by the Commissioners Court fully reviewed our records and checksmelter. Once again we have carefully reviewed our records and checked with our legal counsel, and still believe the road in question is the private property of Alcoa. We will retain the gate and permit passage of contractor employees working at Alcoa and IGC facilities."

The spokesman said the gate was put there to provide a route to work for contractor employees without making them cross picket lines. He added that the road is still open to all property owners in the area.

In other business, Commissioners tabled decision on naming a county depository after bids were opened from Rockdale State Bank, Citizens National Bank of Cameron, First National Bank of Cameron, Thorndale State Bank, and Buckholts State Bank.

The resignation as constable of Pct. 1 was accepted from Claude Bailey, who will be serving as a deputy sheriff. His resignation was effective January 31.

Commissioners also approved a draft work plan for the Elm Creek Watershed project.

And they tabled decision on a postage machine which would cost about $1,350, plus other additional costs.

Implication Of Van Service...

A unique service is being offered the elderly of Milam County in a van provided by funding through Central Texas Council of Governments.

It hauls elderly people on a regular schedule from various Milam communities to and from Rockdale and Cameron. It remembers those often beyond driving cars or owning recent models.

A town in Florida has invoked a unique idea for the elderly, a dispensation in water, sewer service and garbage services and elimination of city taxes. A test case is now in the Florida courts to see if it is constitutional for that part of the public, the elderly, to be allowed free services and taxation.

The idea long is established in Texas homestead exemption, which puts a lid on claims against a home as long it is an original domicile. But the Ocoee, Fla., city council went much further in this unique consideration of the elderly's plight in midst of inflation.

Florida is heavily impacted by retirement communities and heavy percentages of older retired people from the Midwest and Northeast.

The Milam van service is in this direction. And utility and tax relief, if possible under law and new legislation, may ease the opposition votes in important bond issues by older citizens who turn out in high percentages because their limited income is disproportionately affected.

It is a consideration that Central Texas incorporated towns may review because there is a residual number of retired people from the agriculture era still living here. Among the smaller towns like Rogers, they may represent a critical number in terms of household owners.

It is worth study for the growth of the area, as well as prospective relief for those in latter years.

Amendment Election Set For April

Texas voters will decide April 22 in a statewide constitutional amendments election whether they want to increase retirement benefits for school teachers and state employees.

Both houses of the legislature have agreed on the proposal to lift the present six per cent ceiling on matching state contributions to the pension funds (replacing it with a 10 per cent limit).

If voters approve, retired teachers will get boosts in their benefits ranging from five to 18 per cent, and pensioned state employees will get an additional 12 per cent.

Cost of the teacher benefits' raise is estimated at about $98 million and the state employees' pension improvements at $21.8 million.

Meanwhile, the House of Representatives also approved for the April 22 ballot a proposed constitutional change to raise legislators' pay from $400 to $600 a month and expense allowances from $12 to $30 a day for length of a lawmaking session.

Senators may balk at the pay raise proposal which has been advanced in more than half a dozen forms over the last 15 years, without convincing voters.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he will actively support the legislative pay raise proposition if the Senate goes along with submitting it on the April 22 ballot.

A quick recapitulation on emergency spending matters already before the legislature (or finally passed) indicates about $310 million in outlays have been committed during the first month of the 64th lawmaking session.

And Governor Briscoe submitted $672,000 more in recommended quickie appropriations late last week.

FLOOD AID VOTED

A legislative resolution will allow the state to spend money already appropriated to the governor as matching funds to aid victims of natural disasters.

Immediately, funds can be used to provide the state's 25 per cent share of aid to residents of flood-hit Anderson, Bell, Cooke, Denton, El Paso, Hopkins, McLennan, Parker, Williamson, Falls and Nacogdoches counties.

The federal government will match state dollars three to one. The federal disaster act of 1974 provides for financial aid up to $5,000 per individual or family.

PAY RAISES SET

One hundred and twenty-five thousand state employees were assured a $93 million pay raise effective February 1.

Governor Briscoe signed the legislation into law to provide the raises over a seven-months' period.

Most state employees in the low- to medium pay bracket will receive a 13 per cent raise, and most of those in the middle-to-top category will get a nine per cent increase. Additional raises are expected to be voted on a permanent basis after September 1.

LANDS LEASED

Leases of 88,506 acres of state land for oil and gas drilling brought the state $4,199,099.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong termed results of the sale better than expected.

Submerged tract bids totaled $2.26 million.

Highest bidder was Texas Oil and Gas Corp. — $708,400 for 642 acres in Ward County.

The School Land Board leased 4,317 acres of uplands for more than $1 million in bonus payments; 28,761 in Texas bays for $901,664 and 925 acres in Texas rivers, creeks, lakes and bayous for $27,114.

AG OPINIONS

A state university can permit religious-oriented groups to use its meeting room on a non-discretionary, first-come-first-served basis, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Value of a mobile home should be included with value of land it rests on for tax purposes.

Residence of a liquor licensee does not have to be disclosed.

Neither does a school district employee's letter of

Dear editor:

I was watching the evening news on TV the other night, well, they call it the evening news but actually it's just part of the evening news; it's the news that happened close to where the network had a camera that day, or news that didn't play out before a camera crew could get there; anyway the part of the news that interested me that night was a report that the San Francisco school board had decided to discontinue all junior high and senior high school sports.

That's right, football, basketball, baseball, track, marbles -- everything would be discontinued to save money.

Now what the San Francisco school board does is none of my business, I've got my hands full out here on this Johnson grass farm, but, like the economic advisors who convinced President Ford three months ago that the way to solve the country's problems was to save and stop spending, only to reverse themselves and say no, the way to do it is for everybody to spend more and create jobs, I wonder if those school trustees were looking far enough down the road?

I mean, without junior high football, how can you develop any players for a senior high team? And without a senior high team, how can you have any college teams? And without any college teams, where would professional teams get any players? The same goes for baseball, basketball, tennis, golf, swimming, etc.

Without thinking, the San Francisco school board is about to undermine the very foundations of society.

I have a notion that by the time this gets into print the howl of protest beginning with the cheer leaders in San Francisco not to mention the coaches (how many coaches would be satisfied with a teacher's salary?) and spreading like wildfire across the nation will have convinced the board of trustees they didn't realize the magnitude of their decision. You throw thousands of coaches out of work, ruin the business of helmet makers, shoulder pad people, uniform makers, etc., not to mention destroying half of television's revenue in the fall and winter, and you've just given the recession one more shove toward a depression.

Some people say Congress isn't responsive enough to the will of the people but you don't see Congress pulling a stunt like that. It hasn't got time. Too busy investigating things.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

'What Will We Be?'

Your Herald has encouraged growth of school districts for well over 10 years through consolidation, not only in the Milam area, but in the logic of certain minimum size meeting today's education demands.

Through all the debate, community ego and reality, it comes down to resistance to change, even when the object of education is thwarted. That object of course is improvement of the student in terms of community, which is not merely local, but regional, perhaps national.

The argument comes to a community hating to give up its school because it gives up identity. And that is true.

But identity is lost, in our view, when it clings to the past or even a changing present which influences the student, but is only part of his future.

The community dwindles in size, vigor, development. This process sets in at the peak of success of a system, economy or development. When the success plateaus, it is time to look for new community innovators to new horizons.

The fact is it is normal to "rest in laurels" until they are a wreath, graying with age or black.

Amalgamation of schools or community interest is a new level which often exceeds in this day whatever identity the separate entities possessed.

In any prospect of growth, the question is: "Not only what we are, but what will we be?"

Keep Wood Dry To Stop Decay

"Dry rot" in wood structures is a misnomer for a deterioration that can be caused only by repeated wettings with actual water, explains the Western Wood Products Association.

The fungus that causes wood decay is a plant that needs both air and moisture. But moisture in the air, even at 90-degree humidity, cannot sustain it. Neither will continuous submersion; witness centuries-old boats found virtually intact on lake bottoms.

The remedy for wood decay? Shut off the source of dampness and replace the damaged piece if necessary.

Prevention is better. Install lumber and plywood well above ground, or treat it with a preservative that repels moisture, poisons the fungi, or does both.

Bright Overhead

When converting basement space into a playroom, consider leaving the overhead joists and subflooring exposed. Paint or stain them a light color. Pipes and ductwork can be painted a bright hue.

The latest delight for thrill-thirsty daredevils is to ski at breakneck speed down a steep slope, leap into the air, and perform acrobatics to the lit of ballet music. It's called hotdogging, and the inaugural heat for the first world championship has just been held with fitting ceremony in Leysin, a Swiss Alps resort.

PEKING

To some it may be just an old bone, a bowl of greasy washing-up water or a cigarette butt. But in China it's potentially a chopstick, a bar of soap, or a non-poisonous insecticide. Recycling waste material is becoming an integral part of the battle against pollution being fought in this hyge developing country, where the Chinese peasant's traditional thrift is reinforced by government propaganda.

PARIS

A group of small French investors is taking on one of France's biggest financial conglomerates in a battle to win for small shareholders here the rights they enjoy in the United States. The firm they have chosen as their target, Compagnie Financiere De Suez, has been the focus of shareholder discontent for a number of years.

SINAI

"What I mean by peace is being able to take the bus to Cairo and go shopping with the family," said the senior officer called Moshe. But there's little chance of that happening in a long time, he thinks. So meanwhile the best thing for Israel military is to hang on to the vital Mitla and Giddi passes, the Israeli soldiers here believe.

COCHIN, INDIA

After nearly 2,000 years, the Jewish community in the South Indian state of Kerala is fading away. Emigration to Israel over the past 20 years has reduced its number to fewer than 100. The young people in particular have gone in search of the promised land—and marriage partners.

BELGRADE

National news agencies from developing countries have started a worldwide pool to exchange information they feel might not otherwise be heard. The venture was launched on Jan. 20 by the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug in cooperation with 14 other national agencies in the Middle East, Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

In Holland, a sauna means just a sauna bath now—not sex in the steam. Amsterdam's vice squad is seeing to that, as the first wave of excitement at sexual permissiveness ebbs away here. Now detectives patrol the baths to make sure that saunas are no longer simply brothels as they usually were until last year.

MOSCOW

The Soviet Union is signalling that Britain can expect significant economic benefits if new political understandings are reached during the coming Moscow visit of Prime Minister Harold Wilson. At the same time, Soviet officials are leaving no doubt that they are anxious to bring Britain firmly into the process of east-west detente and to put the bitterness of the early 1970's behind them.

Boom-Bust Cycle Leaves Meat On Shaky Ground

The recent boom-bust cycle experienced by meat and poultry producers has left the demand-supply balance for meat on "shaky" grounds.

That view comes from Dr. Don E. Farris, a livestock and meat marketing researcher for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who recently visited with international livestock and meat interest in London.

"Producers have been afflicted by drastic 'ups and downs' at the marketplace due to such things as sharp changes in consumer demand, high feed prices, and sudden changes in government policies," contends Farris. "Major importing countries removed meat import restriction in 1973, and then the Enlarged European Common Market and Japan imposed import embargoes on meat in 1974."

Both U. S. and European producers have been cutting back in poultry, pork, and feedlot cattle production for more than a year but the full impact of this action has not yet hit world markets. Shortages and higher prices of pork and poultry could develop in late 1975, contends the researcher. Grass-fed beef supplies should continue heavy through the year.

According to Farris, the world meat situation could be easily darkened by major droughts on one hand, or could be quickly improved by a drop in oil and grain prices on the other hand. "The situation is quite volatile, and certain factors can bring rapid reactions."

What does Farris suggest for improving the demand-supply situation for meat? "Governments, consumers, and allied industries should have an interest in a more orderly marketplace that will have a long-lasting influence on available meat supplies," the researcher points out. He suggests several courses of action:

1. U. S. consumers, businesses, and governments could buy and store meat where feasible.
2. Public programs for providing more meat and poultry for the needy could be increased.
3. Public and private interest could avoid disruptive elements - strikes and boycotts - in the orderly marketing and distribution process.

4. Meat and poultry industries could develop emergency and long-run programs designed to improve orderly marketing.

5. The U. S. government could prevail on the European Common Market to change current policies restricting meat consumption and eliminating imports from long-time suppliers in South America and elsewhere.

"Meat and poultry producers are really in a quandary due to erratic market conditions," emphasized Farris. "Unless a more orderly marketing process can be developed, production and food supplies will remain uncertain."

Pesticide Certification Law Needed

AUSTIN--Certain restricted-use pesticides will not be available in Texas after October 1975 unless legislative action is taken in the next session.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, the action is needed for Texas to implement a pesticide certification program in compliance with the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act of 1972.

Under the law every state must submit a plan for certifying applicators of restricted-use pesticides to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) during or before October 1975. The plan will go into effect a year after that date.

Certification will be necessary for commercial applicators, farmers, ranchers, apartment owners and individuals using the restricted pesticides.

Farmers, Ranchers Advised About Tax Deductions

With the March 3 income tax deadline for farmers and ranchers rapidly approaching, particular attention should be given to various deductible expenses.

"Each year agricultural producers pay extra income taxes because they fail to deduct certain legitimate business expenses," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Every dollar of business expense not deducted will result in a higher income tax bill."

The Texas A&M University System specialist lists a number of commonly overlooked expense items:

1. Allowance for space in the home used as an office.
2. Items in the home used for business - calculator, typewriter, paper and recordbooks, to name a few.
3. Postage.
4. Meals for hired labor.
5. Bank charges and interest on charge accounts.
6. Tax preparation fees.
7. Bookkeeping fees.
8. Cost of purchases livestock that was lost, stolen, or died during the year.

9. Auto and truck expenses, such as licenses and insurance, according to the portion used for business.

10. Cost of utilities, telephone service and other service charges that pertain to the farming and ranching business.

11. Subscriptions to farm and ranch related magazines.

12. Farm organization dues.

13. Expenses incurred on business trips, and that portion of vacation travel that related to business.

"The key to preparing an income tax return that most correctly reflects your farming or ranching operation is to have a good record-keeping system," emphasizes Hayenga. "Such records should indicate all items purchased for business. These items should be paid by check whenever possible to have a record of payment."

Sorghum Conference At Lubbock

The ninth biennial Grain Sorghum Research and Utilization Conference is March 4-6 at Lubbock.

A talk by a top official of the U. S. Department of Agriculture from Washington, D. C. will conclude the series of meetings.

Held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, an awards luncheon and meetings of the Plains Nutrition Council and the Sorghum Improvement Committee of North America.

C. C. (Pap) Reed of Kress, Texas, chairman of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board, will serve as general chairman of the conference. A. W. (Dub) Anthony Jr. of Friona, Texas, president of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, will preside over the GSPA meeting.

The conference starts with registration at the Hilton Inn at 4 p.m. March 4. A forum on plant disease follows at 7 p.m. with Dr. George Teets of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, and Dr. L. K. Edmunds of USDA's Agricultural Research Service at Manhattan, Kansas as co-chairman.

Overhangs Helpful

When planning your new home, consider extra wide roof overhangs. They'll earn back their cost by keeping rooms cooler in summer and protecting walls and windows from rain and snow.

Cropland Use Changes

Texas farmers are breaking with traditional cropping patterns as they prepare for a new crop year.

"Cropland use is shifting to reflect relative profit potentials," says Charles Baker, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "A considerable amount of cotton acreage will be planted to sorghum due to the depressed cotton market and better sorghum prices. Plantings of wheat, sunflowers, flax, and several other crops are also expected to be up due to reduced

It's Not All Bad... Bah, Bah, Bah... Off-Farm Down, On-Farm Up? ... Grain Stocks Decline.

Not everything you hear or see about the livestock outlook is bad. There are some heartening signs. Take a look at the December meat production figures, for example, and look, too, at the cow slaughter picture.

Both in Texas and throughout the nation, production of red meats is increasing. In Texas, commercial production during December was up 38 per cent from a year ago, and 13 per cent higher than 1973. Nationwide, red meat production is seven per cent more than a year earlier. Beef production is up eight per cent. Cattle kill is up 13 per cent.

Cow slaughter-the beef industry factory-is also on the increase. Cow slaughter in 1974 totaled 7,600,000 head. It is projected that will increase at least a third more during 1975.

All of this means we are making progress in reduction of beef supplies. But until they decline even more, the livestock picture is not going to be bright.

Per capita consumption of beef continues to increase, too, but unfortunately, beef production is still ahead of consumption. It's estimated that we will produce about 125 pounds per capita of beef while consumption is projected at around 116 pounds per capita.

Beef is now perhaps the best food buy around; look around and you'll see that beef prices to the consumer finally are showing some relation to the price drops suffered by the producer for the past year or so.

WHILE almost every other category of livestock is showing increases, one part of the Texas animal agriculture industry-sheep and lambs-is showing a big decline. It's the lowest population for sheep and lambs in Texas since 1919.

As of Jan. 1, there were 2,688,000 head of sheep and lambs in Texas; this total is 13 per cent under the previous year. Way back in 1919, sheep and lamb population totaled 2,600,000 head.

And the inventory of goats and kids on Texas farms and ranches is now the smallest number on record. The inventory shows 1,150,000 head of goats and kids, which is a 15 per cent decrease from a year ago.

Nationwide, numbers of sheep and lambs as of Jan. 1 are down 11 per cent from 1974 and 18 per cent below two years ago.

OFF-FARM grain storage capacity in Texas as of Jan. 1 is down 33,000,000 bushels from a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. Off-farm storage totaled 719,000,000 bushels.

By regions, West Texas capacity dropped from 445,000,000 to 416,000,000; North Texas capacity dropped from 167,000,000 to 154,000,000; and South Texas capacity increased from 140,000,000 to 149,000,000 bushels.

Meanwhile, farmers should consider locating storage now for grain crops in view of projections of increased acreage, especially for grain sorghum.

Build Your Future With Funk's G-Hybrids

It's just good business to plant Funk's G-Hybrids for top yields at harvest.... Good business to plant the sorghum hybrids which make the most of your soil and weather...year after year...in good years, and in tough ones, too.

That's why leading sorghum growers plant Funk's G-Hybrids. Build your future by planting Funk's G-Hybrids-proven hybrids like G-522, a yield champion under a wide range of growing conditions, and G-577, a high-yielding NEW hybrid which has shown a high level of resistance to sorghum downy mildew.

You can rely on your Funk's -G dealer for good advice in choosing the right hybrids for your sorghum-growing needs. Order Funk's G-Hybrids today.

G-522

A CHAMPION YIELDER Produces top quality, yellow endosperm grain. Big semi-open heads, bronze at maturity. Excellent standability and disease resistance.

G-577

A NEW hybrid which has shown a high level of resistance to sorghum downy mildew and anthracnose. Bred-in high yield capability. Stalks are short and strong. Especially adapted to coastal areas, and to irrigated and non-irrigated conditions.

ANOTHER GREAT VARIETY FROM ROGERS

QUAPAW cotton

GOOD PRODUCTION

Quapaw cotton has a consistent high lint yield with approximately 85 pounds per bale more seed production than most other varieties.

GOOD FIBER

Quapaw cotton matures early resulting in consistency of fiber elongation. Staple length 31/32 to 34/32. Quapaw is a mature fiber of high natural luster. "The mills like it."

GOOD MICRONAIRE

Quapaw's early maturity gives consistent good fiber with micronaire between 3.8 and 4.5 (well within market specifications). Quapaw's micronaire is an important price factor in today's market.

GOOD COLD TOLERANCE

Reports from growers (Texas Valley to High Plains) say that Quapaw can withstand more adverse conditions than most varieties resulting in "less plant over." Quapaw is bred for "once over harvesting" and is adaptable for either picker or stripper.

Finishing Costs Vary Greatly

What does it cost to finish basement or attic space?

Assuming the homeowner does the work himself, one survey found costs for materials falling within these ranges:

Basement, 15 by 20 foot space, simple, $250 to $450, and deluxe, $700 to $900.

Attic, 10 by 20 foot space, simple, $250 to $450, and deluxe, $500 to $900.

Hiring all the work done will double these costs. The figures do not include plumbing and electrical materials, which usually are installed by licensed craftsmen.

First industry established in the Thirteen Colonies was a sawmill, a primitive operation set up at Jamestown in 1608.

Baileys Plan Russian Tour

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Weldon Bailey of Calvert have planned another exciting tour for others who are interested in exploring the enchanting world of Scandinavia, Russia, and Austria. Last summer the Baileys took a group on a deluxe tour of the Orient. Europe was the itinerary in 1972. A six weeks round-the-world tour was conducted in 1970.

This year's tour will depart July first and will take the group to Bergen, Stalheim, Lake Tyin, and Oslo, Norway. On the eighth day of the tour the group will travel to Stockholm, Sweden. For the Baptist in the group they may attend the World Congress. During the five days in Stockholm three exciting tours have been planned.

On Monday, July 14, Dr. Bailey's group will fly to Leningrad. Exciting things have been planned for this great city. From Leningrad the itinerary will take everyone to Moscow for four memorable days. Included in Moscow will be a visit to the Bolshoi Theatre to view the Bolshoi Ballet.

From Moscow the group will fly to Vienna. After much sight-seeing in this historic city, the last evening will be spent in Baden where, near Kurpark, everyone will enjoy dinner in a restaurant and see the famous operetta in the Baden Summer Theatre.

The group will return July 22, Dr. Bailey said. "This year's tour will be one of the most exciting and rewarding we have ever offered." The Baileys have toured South America, Africa, and the Holy Land, in addition to the places mentioned above. The tour price, that includes almost everything is $1,799 from New York to New York. A group fare will be arranged for those going from the Dallas and Houston areas. For more information write: Dr. and Mrs. Joe Weldon Bailey at P. O. Box 65, Calvert, Texas 77837. Mrs. Cliff Wiese Jr. of Calvert will be joining the Baileys this summer. She was a member of their party last year when a tour of the Orient was made.

TJC Library Now Open On Sunday

Temple Junior College now will open its Hubert M. Dawson Library to students and the general public from 2-6 p.m. Sundays.

All regular TJC Library services will be available on Sunday afternoons, including the reference, periodical, and microfilm sections. Rose Anne Brasher, Director of Library Services, said.

A librarian will be on duty also to answer reference questions and direct persons to various books and services of the facility, she said.

The Library's new study carrels will be available and include tape players, film strip projectors, and slide projectors. The Library has many programs available for use in the carrels, Miss Brasher said.

The Library has one study room which accommodates four students who wish to study as a group, she said.

Persons in the community who wish to use the Library may do so.

Special permission is needed for persons other than TJC students to check books out of the library, she said. All other services available to members of the community are on the same basis to which they are available to students, she said.

TJC's Library weekly hours include:

7:45 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

6:30-10 p.m. Monday through Thursday

7:45 a.m.-4 p.m. Friday

The Library is open to the public during these hours.

IRS Ups Mileage Allowance

Howard C. Longley, Internal Revenue Service acting district director for southern Texas, today reminded taxpayers that optional mileage allowances have been increased for automobiles used for business, moving, charitable, and medical purposes, effective for the 1974 tax year.

Longley said the standard mileage rate for automobiles used in business has been increased from 12¢ to 15¢ per mile for the first 15,000 miles, and from 9¢ to 10¢ for each additional mile of business use.

Seven cents per mile will be allowed for persons using automobiles for charitable, medical, and moving expenses, an increase of one cent per mile.

The amount of reimbursement -- or per diem allowance -- is increased $8 for ordinary and necessary expenses of employees traveling away from home, for substantiation purposes. The ceiling for such per diem expenses is now $44, unless otherwise authorized by the Internal Revenue Service.

In addition, employees who receive a sum from their employers in excess of their deductible business expenses must report this excess sum in their gross income.

THE STEPS OF LENT

Between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday there are forty days? No, that's not quite right.

Between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday there are forty weekdays—and six Sundays. Traditionally the weekdays were the Lenten fast, the Sundays were festivals of Christian worship.

If your faith has taught you to observe Lent: by foregoing pleasures or adding new religious experiences or both... those Six Sundays are occasions for taking inventory of your spiritual progress.

If yours is a religious background that does not emphasize Lent, those Six Sundays are still milestones on the way to the great Christian celebration of Christ's Resurrection—Easter!

And if, perchance, you have never given much attention to spiritual matters, those Six Sundays (and the thoughtful days between) are an invitation from your Lord... to walk with Him the path He walked for You.

Inventories Important For Families

Inventories are just as important for families as they are for profitable businesses. Mrs. Doris Myers, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, pointed out this week.

"This can determine net worth and guide future needs and planning. Another use is as a basis for insurance coverage or even claims if property is lost," she said.

A good place to begin is the household inventory—a room by room listing of every item. This should include the date purchased, original cost, and present value. To determine present value, figure replacement cost, less deductions for depreciation, the specialist explained.

For gift and homed items, estimate value of cost. Heirlooms and antiques may have increased in value rather than depreciated. This may call for an appraisal by an authority to determine present value. Don't forget to include personal effects such as clothing, jewelry, etc., she said.

Mrs. Myers pointed out that items in the garage and store room such as the family car, yard care, and recreation equipment can amount to a sizable sum.

"If a home is paid for, find out its value today. If you are paying on a mortgage, determine how much is invested. Add the value of any other real estate owned.

"Include in your inventory the name and value of investments, bonds, other savings and life insurance. Figure cash value for each."

Also include the amount of money in checking accounts and the amount others owe you. If there is any other item that has value, add its worth to complete the total family assets.

Turning to the liabilities column, the specialist advised listing each by name and amount owed. The list may include debts such as home mortgage, installment contracts, notes, charge accounts, credit card obligations, and personal loans.

Baylor To Host Art Exhibits

More than 100 hand-crafted items, including pottery, basketry, weaving, stitching, and carving will be on display through March 3 in the foyer of Moody Memorial Library on the Baylor campus.

The exhibit is one of two travelling displays currently circulating throughout the Southern and Eastern parts of the United States. The displays are sponsored by the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild, based in Asheville, N. C.

The 103-item display at Baylor includes cornhusk dolls, framed stitchery, woden toys, and leather purses. Materials used in the making of the crafts include enameling, glass, wood, fiber, and native materials.

Local showing of the display was arranged by Baylor art department personnel.

Items in the display are on sale at prices ranging from $3 for a handmade broom to $300 for a head carved from pearwood.

Persons interested in purchasing items should call Ary J. Arlon, a Baylor assistant professor of art, at 817-775-1868. Stocked items will be shipped to buyers. One-of-a-kind items will be sent to purchasers when the tour is completed.

FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Woods of Milano celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday, February 10. Mrs. Woods is the former Miss Mineola Boedeker of Chriesman. Mr. Woods is in his eighth year of retirement after serving 23 years as a school teacher and 23 years as a social worker with the State Department of Public Welfare. The couple's seven children and five grandchildren will host a reception Saturday, February 15, in honor of this occasion.

CPAG Meets To Plan China Painting Show

Plans for the First Annual China Painting Show of the Cameron Porcelain Arts Guild were discussed at the club held its regular meeting Thursday night in the Business and Professional Women's Club House.

Willie Falkner, club president, presided during the business meeting, at which time Eula Crook, Duffie Caperton, and Lela Rogers were elected to serve as a nominating committee. Falkner was elected to paint a piece of china to be donated to the State Federation on Porcelain Arts of Texas to be held in Brownsville in April. At the close of the business part of the meeting posters were distributed to each member to be placed in businesses to advertise the Club's First Annual China Painting Show scheduled for March 16 from 12 noon until 5 p.m. in the Cameron Public Library. After the business meeting, Molly Richter introduced Club member artist Mary Brumley of Temple, who gave a demonstration of painting roses and wild roses.

Nineteen members and four guests were present at the meeting. Guests included Mrs. Blanche Wolf of Rosebud, Mrs. Bonn Cobb of Mayfield, Joey McElwath of Cameron, and Mr. Brumley of Temple.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Sports Spotlight

By Forrest Guess

The San Francisco school board announced last week that their school system would delete all inter and intra school athletics this coming year. They stated that the expense and crowd control were the reasons for stopping the activities.

In the state of Texas a move like this might bring most serious consequences. Athletics brings a blend of physical fitness and self achievement for the youth.

If one student in the system stays in school purely for the athletic events, the program has a purpose, no matter the expense.

The athletic program does cost the system money, but in turn it creates several positive results. The participants gain great insights in playing and for the San Francisco to reinstate their athletic program into their school curriculum.

I spoke with Coach Cauley about the rumors that he was going to take a position in a 4A system. Coach Cauley said, "I will be back and at this time I have no thoughts about leaving."

Coach Cauley also added that

CHEAP LAND

In 1626, Peter Minuit bought all of Manhattan Island's 2,200 acres for 60 Dutch guilders' worth of trade goods, the National Geographic Society says. In those days, 60 guilders equalled 2,400 English cents. Today, Manhattan land sells for about $24 a square inch.

competing against other young people.

It allows them a chance to express themselves in a spirit of school pride and self-pride. With all these plusses, I look the field house is also nearing completion and the football boys will soon enter their new home.

Talking with the coach of the undefeated Cameron Yoemen, Coach Ken Poole had the following remarks about the past week's performance.

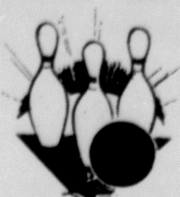

Coach Poole stated: "We are real happy with our games last week and we showed up real well against Manor. Our workouts have been average and we are going to face tough competition this week."

"Our press is beginning to work real well and the press will receive a supreme test against Elgin. Elgin had great quickness against us last time we played them and we know that they are going to be ready against us. They have a rather small gym and we have played in a small gym this season."

"Against Hearne we are going to have to have a good effort from each of our players, the only game that they have lost was against us. They have 2 fine players, Hill and Wilson."

With a win against Elgin the Yoemen can secure at least a tie for the district crown and with two wins this week, the Yoemen will go through district undefeated. Everything rests in this week's action and a large crowd should be on hand for the Hearne game that will be played at Yoe Gym Friday night.

Yoemen Assured Of District Tie

The Cameron Yoemen assured themselves of at least a tie in District 23-AA with their win against Elgin. The Yoemen took the nip and tuck victory, 73-66.

The Yoemen extended their district record to a 13-0 mark in the district loop. The Yoemen needed the victory to assure them of at least a co-title in the district as they face Hearne, who still has a mathematical chance at the title. Hearne has only lost one game in the district and that was against the Yoemen in the first half of the district loop.

In the first quarter against Elgin the Yoemen hit a hot 66 percent to take a four point advantage by the buzzer.

In the second quarter the Yoemen continued to exchange blows and by the halftime intermission led by only a three point advantage. The Wildcats led by 2 during the quarter but they were never to regain the lead against the district leader. The Yoemen cooled off in the quarter to hit only 9 buckets out of 26 attempts. Jarus White did an outstanding job throughout the game and led the Yoemen on two fronts, scoring and rebounds. On the scoring attack Mr. White blazed the net for 30 points. In the rebounding department White swept down 16 tough rebounds. Ronnie Bennett and Harry Brooks brought down important rebounds and kept the inside working with 15 rebounds each.

In the third section of play the Yoemen continued to outscore the Wildcats by widening the deficit to 5 points. Again the percentage was at a cool 35 percent, but was good enough to get the job done.

The Yoemen didn't allow the lead to change hands as the sight of the district title became clearer. Hitting a hot 60 percent from the field the Yoemen continued to extend their advantage. The Wildcats who only won one game last year tried to put the pressure on the district leader but the height and determination couldn't be shaken.

The Yoemen went to the free throw line 29 times penetrating the hoop 13 times

Elgin went to the give me line 19 times and dumped in 10. From the field the Yoemen hit a 49 percent for the night's winning effort.

In freshman action the Yoe High cagers fell victim to a hot shooting Elgin team. Elgin swept past the Yoe round-batters, 56-36. The Yoemen could only account for 9 points in the first half of play while the Wildcats pumped in 39 points. Earl spells led the Yoe attack with 11 for the night. By the final buzzer the Yoemen looked from behind a 20 point deficit.

In junior varsity action the Yoe cagers also fell to Elgin, 61-42. David Kornegay's 17 points couldn't bring forth a Yoe victory and by the halftime buzzer the Yoemen looked at a 6 point deficit. The Elgin Wildcats continued to pour on the steam and by the final buzzer sported a 19 point advantage over the Yoemen.

All Yoemen roundball squads will be in action this Friday night against the Hearne Eagles. The game will be the final district game for the Yoemen and the district title will rest on the game. Yoe will host the Eagles at Yoe gym starting at 5:30 p.m.

Eagles Secure District Crown

The Milano Eagles secured the District 54-B crown by downing the Troy Trojans, 72-70. The game was a true barn burner and the winner was decided in the last 10 seconds as Bruce Williams pumped in the winning field goal as the final seconds ticked off.

The Eagles went through district play only losing one game in the first round of the district loop, they lost to the Trojans. Their district record now stands at 8-1, and the Eagles will play Axtell in Bi-District action.

In the first quarter the Eagles were looking at a 11 point deficit. The Trojans dumped in 10 points before the Eagles penetrated the hoop.

By the halftime intermission the Eagles were still looking from behind, with a 5 point deficit. The gap, that at one time was 16 points, looked like an impossible dream. Bruce Williams with his 35 points helped bridge the gap and led the Eagles in the scoring department.

At the end of the third section of play the Eagles were down by six points.

But in the fourth quarter the Eagle defense stopped the powerful driving of Bill Bittner and held the Trojans to 14 points. The Eagle offense continued to score and together the Eagles pumped in 22. The score was tied at 70 all and the Eagles came down with a free throw rebound and turned the rebound into the District title. In the girls game the Trojans played like district champs, which they are. Milano was no trouble for the Trojans and at the halftime intermission the Trojans sported a 40-15 lead over the Eagles.

Cheryl Kornegay led the scoring for the Eagles with 23 while Kathy Davenport also hit double figures with 10.

The steam continued to radiate from the Trojan basket as they were hot in the shooting department. By the final buzzer the Trojans were able to bring a 36 point advantage over the Eagles.

The Trojans went to the free throw line 16 times hitting 12. The Milano Eagles went to the grace line 18 times only sinking 8.

The coaches from Axtell and Milano will meet Wednesday to decide on the place and time for the Bi-District contest. Charlie Martin said that he expected the date to be set on either March 3 or 4th.

Sports Roundup

TRAVIS

The Rosebud-Lott Cougars brought forth 3 wins to their home crowds, as each team scored wins over Caldwell. The varsity Cougars iced the Hornets, 52-35. The Cougars cushioned their lead in the first half, 17-10. Ray Rabroker came on strong for the Cougars in the 2nd half and dumped in 20 points. In the J.V. game the Cougars came out on top, 48-30. In the freshman bout the Cougars slapped the Hornets, 52-32.

BARTLETT

The Bartlett Bulldogs destroyed Rogers 51-65. This marked the Bulldogs 9th win against 4 losses and put the Eagles at a 5-8 mark. At the end of the first half the Eagles were sporting a 3 point advantage over the Bulldogs. The scene, changed for the Eagles as L. V. Walker began tallying 26 points. The Rogers zone couldn't take the Bartlett height and the second half was a different story. In the junior varsity action Rogers set the pace with a 31-27 win over the Bulldogs.

HOLLAND

Holland put together a tough press throughout the game to secure a 78-31 win over the hapless Badgers. At the end of the first half Holland went to the dressing room with a 6 point advantage, 39-33. The Badgers went into cold storage in the 3rd quarter only scoring 6 while Holland put in 18. Greg Goodnight sank 16 for the winning cause, John Salazar and Danny Krall set the pace for the Badgers with 10 each.

Tickets On Sale For Globetrotters

COLLEGE STATION
Tickets are on sale throughout Bryan and College Station for the Feb. 27 performance of the Harlem Globetrotters.

A popular show that packs G. Rollie White Coliseum year in and year out, the world-famous "Globies" are scheduled at 8 p.m.

Texas A&M's Town Hall Committee of the Memorial Student Center sponsors the Globetrotters as a TAMU special attraction.

Hubert "Geese" Ausbie leads the Globetrotters' International Unit here for the G-rated entertainment. It invariably fills G. Rollie White Coliseum to overflowing with kids. Almost as certain is that the Globetrotters and kids get involved. Sometimes in water fights.

In a recent episode, Meadark Lemm advanced on the crowd with a bucket, and showered several people with confetti. The "clown prince," who appears with the other Globetrotters unit, also raced through the aisles after another youngster. A bucket of water was upended over the lad.

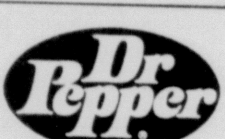

Town Hall Chariman Doug Thorpe said tickets are on sale at all five Bryan and College Station banks. They are also available at the Rudder Center box office, Sears, and Wards.
